Routine Matters Engage Council's Attention

Decide To Purchase Some Real Estate.

Regular meeting of the council was held on Tuesday evening. Present Mayor Abousafy, Councillors Cox, Dutil, Jenkins and Ramsay.

The police report was read and among other things revealed that $300 in fines would be refunded to the town by Edmonton upon application.

The Medical Health Officer's report was read. It revealed that during October there had been several mild colds, three cases of whooping cough and two VD cases. The general sanitary condition of the town was good.

The estate of Philip Yásek is selling a home in West Coleman in which resides Mrs. Nick Deputat. Council at its last meeting agreed to offer $200 for the purchase of the property. Secretary was instructed to forward a $200 tender along with a $20 cheque to Edmonton, the sale being in the hands of a government department.

Last meeting council decided to purchase $2,000 in Savings Bonds. It has now information that a corporation is unable to purchase these bonds. As a result $2,000 will be taken from the general account and placed in the savings.

In the past when a prisoner was occupying the cells the guard was compelled to sleep on the floor. The Police committee brought this state of affairs to council's attention and it was granted authority to purchase a cot on which the guard may sleep while guarding a prisoner.

Town Solicitor Sam Banman was authorized to draft an agreement to cover the lease of the skating arena by the town council to the Coleman Community Sports Association.

Discussion arose regarding the open air skating arena. It was decided to re-open the open air arena for the youngsters this winter again.

PINCHER CREEK HONORS RETURNED MEN

Jim Drew has been honored by Pincher Creek with a presentation of a wooden plaque attached to which is a silver crest. The crest reads: "Presented by Pincher Creek for Duty Well Done 1939-1945." Underneath the silver crest is a silver shield with the name, J. Drew.

The plaque is very neat and is indeed something that will be treasured by all returned men receiving them from the citizens of Pincher Creek.

Dr. Hope Gill Relates China Experiences At Lions Meeting

Two School Students Attended Supper Meeting; Discuss International Affairs.

Dr. Hope Gill was the guest speaker at the Lions regular supper-meeting on Monday evening. Practically a full membership was in attendance to hear the speaker. Lion president Frank Abousafy presided.

Dr. Hope Gill started his address at a point where he, his family and other British and American nationals were in Japanese internment camps. He told of the misery experienced and the many novel methods invented by the internees with which to bake bread, cook food and make life just a little easier.

Following their release by the Americans he told of being taken to the various Allied advance bases, where they were given medical attention, good food, clean clothes and every courtesy. The internees were repatriated home by air and he told of the various planes used for the repatriation, of the hospitality given them by the Indian aristocracy in Calcutta, and finally when he reached English soil.

Following the doctor's address a debate on International matters took place and which was entered into by several members.

Attending the meeting for the first time were two high school students, the first of many students which will be the guests of the Lions at regular supper-meetings in the future. It is the aim of the Lions club to acquaint these young people with the workings of a service club and to introduce them to the club members and in this manner bring closer together the student body with town and business leaders.

Flowers For London

Blossoms From Scilly Islands To Be Shipped For Winter Market

Acreage on the Scilly Islands devoted to vegetables during the war will be blooming again with marigolds, daffodils, arums, calendulas, and other flowers for London's winter markets.

Under most favorable conditions, says the National Geographic Society, these Islands 25 miles off England's southwest corner shipped about 85,000,000 individual blossoms a year. Flowers bloom out of doors the year round at a latitude 650 miles north of New York City.

The warm Gulf Stream gives the island a mild temperature, ranging from 46 to 58 degrees Fahrenheit. Starting plants outdoors in September and October, the Islanders can supply the London markets in December or early January by forcing blooms under glass.

Because of gales, the tenderest flowers have to be protected by masses of purple-flowering veronica and tall herbs. The gales may send a salt spray to spot and blacken blossoms. They may ruin garlands but the loaded ships in harbors will the flowers fade.

Scillentians who now number about 1,500, gradually turned florists some sixty years ago after a single batch filled with flowers was sent on a trial basis to the London market. Before that time the Islanders had supported themselves by farming, fishing, and more precarious means. Only five of the 140 islands and granite reefs are inhabited.

FLAVOR IS BETTER

The Agriculture Department's Commodity Information economist says the best flavored sauce is made without peeling the apples, and besides it is a time saver. Wash apples, quarter them and discard any decayed portions. Cook until soft in a covered pan, adding just enough water to prevent burning, and press through a strainer. Sweeten as desired.

SALT FOR HOGS

Experimental Evidence Shows That It Is Valuable Item

There is an old wives' tale that salt is poisonous to hogs. All late experimental evidence shows that, properly included in the ration, it is a very valuable item. A note from the Drovers' Daily Journal is interesting in this connection.

"Last year at Swine Day, held annually at Purdue University, C. M. Vestal, in charge of hog feeding tests, reported that a penny's worth of salt saved 287 pounds of feed valued at $6.37. Hogs without salt gained 14.5 pounds per head per day, eating 1.6 times their grain and supplement ration. During the 85-day test $1 pounds of extra gain was produced for each pound of salt consumed, $13 worth, based on the local price of hogs. The test was made with 90 lb. hogs.

"At this year's Swine Day Mr. Vestal reported on another test. He found that pigs receiving salt free-choice with their corn and supplement ration gained 10 percent faster than those without salt. The salted pigs had an average gain of 84 pounds, while the others gained only 48 pounds a head. For each pound of salt consumed there were 29 extra pounds of gain. This alone gave the salt a high value in the ration. Besides the extra gain there was a saving of $7.12 in the feed cost of 100 pounds of gain when salt was fed, as compared with no salt in the ration. This saving amounted to $4.75 for each pound of salt fed."

Preserved In Glacier

Body Of Lizardlike Animal Was Washed Ashore On Alaska Coast

ANCHORAGE, Alaska—Discovery of the body of a long, lizardlike animal—tentatively identified as a prehistoric tyrannosaurus or gorgonurus—has been reported by home-steaders at Anvik, on the Yukon River, on Kachemak Bay.

The find, believed to have been preserved in a glacier until washed out into the bay and then ashore, had head and forefins perfectly intact and measured 18 feet 10 inches from tip to tail, according to Anchorage residents who flew to the scene.

(The tyrannosaurus, a descendant of the gorgonurus, stands 18 feet high and is some 33 feet long, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica. The gorgonurus is a prehistoric sea creature that roamed the Alberta, Canada, region in the middle cretaceous period, some 65 to 85 million years ago.)

The animal, which washed ashore with some of the flesh still intact, was said by witnesses to have a tail five feet five inches long and two feet six inches wide at its juncture to the body. A head over two feet wide and three and a half feet long had a sharply pointed tooth row 18 inches long.

Make Good Students

Veterans Are Really Interested In Getting Ahead With Education

There was a time in the twenties, when a young man, having nothing better to do, went to a university. That produced the type associated with the phrase, "Joe College." He wore a coonskin coat, and paid little attention to his academic work. He was at the university for a lark.

He was a very different boy from the ex-serviceman who is in attendance at the universities now. Canadian university heads describe the veterans as steady, interested in their studies, not given to useless triviality, and very intent on making up for the time given to service in the forces.

According to a survey made by the department of veterans' affairs as of Aug. 31, 1946, about 40,000 veterans are in the universities.—Globe and Mail.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

ABSENT-MINDED GEORGE

By M. J. COLLINS

Copyright Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate

To say that old George was absent-minded was to put it mildly; he could forget or mislay more things in ten minutes than an ordinary man in a week.

He operated the corner grocery store and the only reason he made money was because he had a wife with her head in the right place.

The most noticeable thing in the store was a large old-fashioned safe that sat solidly opposite the door. George had bought it when he opened his store more than twenty years ago.

This morning one of his sister-in-law's children had met with an accident and George's wife had to go and help straighten out a very upset child.

"Now, don't go woogierating!" She warned as she was leaving. "I haven't the slightest idea how long I'll be away but I'll phone and let you know things are."

Business went on without a hitch and George was well pleased with himself, no muddling for him. Most of his business was on a credit system and this was the day his customers generally cleared up their accounts.

At closing time he had almost a thousand dollars to look out. Just before he was ready to leave his wife phoned. The accident wasn't as serious as first supposed and she would be home for supper. A short time later George drove home.

While they dined George heard all the details. His wife was so much taken up with what had happened that she forgot to ask how things had gone at the store.

This was the maid's night off and he helped with the dishes.

"How much money did we take in today?" Did old man Palgy clear up his account?" She asked as he dried the last dish.

"Yes, yes he did. We took in almost a thousand dollars and I put it away safely," he informed her with some pride.

"Are you positive of that, dear?" She asked pertly.

"Yes, locked tight and safe," he assured her. He put the dish towel on the rack behind the stove to dry.

"I'm going to look over the paper and then go to bed, Bertha. I had a busy day at the store." He strolled a yawn.

"Why not take it upstairs and read in bed?" She suggested. "It would be much more restful."

"I think I will. It sounds like a good idea."

The paper is in the magazine rack. I'll be up in a few minutes. I think I'll bring my knitting."

The next morning he awoke at 5:30, stretched and trying to get his thoughts straightened out. Evidently he'd drifted off to sleep while reading. The lights were out and the gentle sound of Bertha's breathing came from the other bed.

The dream! That's what had awakened him. Someone had broken into the store and stolen the safe. Taken it clean away. He chuckled, not much danger of that, it weighed 700 lbs. Stretching out his full length he relaxed and then rolled over. It was his side to go to sleep. The money! Now he remembered, when Bertha phoned he'd forgotten it and left it sitting on the counter in the cigar box. If he wasn't the addled headed... Throwing aside the covers, he sat on the side of the bed. No sense in awakening Bertha.

"What's the matter, dear?" She was already awake. "I heard you twisting and turning and I wondered if you were sick." She switched on the bed lamp.

"When you phoned I forgot to put the money away." He told her ruefully.

"George!" She exclaimed with exasperation. "Will you ever learn! What are you going to do now?"

"I'm going down to the store and put it away." While he dressed he told her about the dream. Bertha laughed when she heard of it.

"Don't worry," she assured him, "you'll find it there in the very selfsame spot."

In about half an hour he returned.

"Everything all right, dear?" Bertha asked sleepily when she heard him.

"Yes, I did leave the money sitting on the counter but it's safely locked up now. Guess I'll never learn to remember anything." George grumbled as he rolled into bed.

Next morning they were at the store bright and early.

"George, you didn't lock the door!" Bertha cried with vexation. "You go from bad to worse." Opening the door she walked in while George was still fumbling for his keys.

"I locked it, I'm positive." He explained. "But I'm only Bertha's angry back to talk to."

When he closed the door he immediately had a premonition that there was something amiss. Looking at the end of the store he realized what it was, there was only an empty space where the safe had stood.

"Oh, my goodness, Bertha!" George jumped up and down with excitement, waving his hands and shouting, "It's gone, it's gone!"

"It's gone to safe," he gone." "The police, I'll phone the police." And she rushed to the phone.

"What do you know?" George shook his head incredulously, after all these years."

About two hours later the police found the safe in a ravine on a side road about four miles from town. George drove out immediately to see what had happened. There he saw a man in a plain clothes detective wearing a trench coat. The safe door was blasted open and it was bare.

"Could you give us a list of the contents?" the detective requested. "It'll help us in our work."

"List!" George looked sheepish.

"Well, to tell the truth I bought the safe twenty years ago I forgot the combination, and the old fellow that sold it to me moved away and I never did get around to getting it. We kept it just for show, officer. Always keep our money in a strong box under the counter."

Says Rheumatic Pain Runs in her Family

But Safeguards Health With Kruschen

Many people seem to think because a complaint runs in the family, that there is little they can do about it. On the other hand, there are many steps to avoid it. Especially if that complaint is rheumatic pain. Read how one woman keeps free from it—

"Rheumatic pain runs in my family. My father suffered very badly with it. I have been taking Kruschen since I was a baby. It is a great help in keeping rheumatic pain out of my shoulders. My general health is very good. I am 57 and can do a day's work with anyone and I expect to be without Kruschen." (Mrs.) A.B.S.

The whole secret of Kruschen is in its action upon the organs of elimination. Kruschen helps these organs to remove from the body the acid wastes which give rise to rheumatic pains. Take a generous dose of Kruschen for the next month or so. For rheumatic pain, half to one teaspoonful in hot water first thing in the morning. Two sizes: 25c and 50c at your drug store.

Weekly Press Valued

Has Advanced With The Times And Reached Field Of National Benefit

The weekly press was the pioneer in journalism in this country and it has recorded history from generation to generation, said George James in a lecture at the meeting of the A.M.C. High School, Montreal.

Mr. James, editor and publisher of The Bowmanville Statesman, outlined the development and the place of the weekly press in Canada.

He stated that the weekly has advanced with the times and through its national association has reached a position in a field of journalism of national benefit.

Diamonds In The Rough

In the small communities throughout Canada there are undoubtedly many young artists whose talents are such that should they be given professional tutoring a new and lucrative future could be theirs.

Here in Coleman at the present time we have one of these diamonds in the rough. We have a young man with an exceptionally good singing voice that even the untrained ear knows is above the average. He works in the mines.

Were this youth residing in a city he would undoubtedly be "discovered" by talent scouts as he entertained at civic functions. The Pass has no radio station which could serve as an outlet for talent such as his and radio is apparently too big to seek talent in small towns.

Luckily we have a drama club that would be an outlet for any outstanding dramatic star which may be developed locally as a festival is held each year and attended by provincial dramatic leaders.

DAIRIES ARE NO GOLD MINES

If the Ontario Royal Commission investigating milk production costs did nothing else, it is to be hoped that it puts the public straight on some fundamentals of costs and pricing, remarks The Financial Post.

"If the profits in milk distribution" even remotely approached the figures sometimes hinted, then that business would have been a gold mine for the companies interested and a tempting field for those advocating municipal ownership," says The Post. "But the actual record is disillusioning. Scores of dairy companies have gone to the wall in the last decade or so. Very few have been able to show a continuous record of earnings. In 1944, a good year, 31 (nearly one fifth) of the 160 retail dairies reporting to the Department of National Revenue, showed a loss. Only 49 earned enough to be in the 100 per cent EPT bracket."

FIRST AID VALUABLE TRAINING

First Aid winter classes are about to start. They are free and offer the youth of Coleman the opportunity to train as First Aiders thus giving them the skill to aid the wounded should an accident occur.

Coleman has always been to the forefront in southern Alberta in First Aid. Its stalwarts through the years have brought provincial and Dominion honors to the community. Its students, most of whom work in the mines, have tried themselves invaluable times without number when accidents occur by administering to the wounded until a doctor reached the scene.

Coleman's youth would do well to consider seriously attending these classes. Accidents are constantly occurring. We read this week of a BC man being shot in the leg and bleeding to death. First Aid could in all probability have saved a life in this instance.

Those trained in First Aid possess an asset that no one can take from them and when one considers that it requires only a few hours study each week the youth of the community should take advantage of the opportunity of attending these free classes. They will never regret their decision.

LET'S GET THE RECORD STRAIGHT

This week ill-considered statements have been made against the town council in regards to its position as trustees of the skating arena.

In order to keep the record straight it should be kept in mind that the council holds the arena in trusteeship for the citizens of Cole-

Q. Can one rest too much in taking the cure, and would exercise be beneficial?

A. There comes a time in the treatment of tuberculosis when it is very desirable to have the patient exercise. However, this must be decided only by a physician who has the patient in charge and it is dangerous for the patient to take it upon himself to exercise without the advice or guidance of his physician. As a rule, however, more harm is done by too much exercise than by too much rest.

Kepler Flying Service Seeks To Have Flying Club Organized Here

Messrs. Bowman and Warren, of Kepler's Flying Service, Lethbridge, brought their two seater Piper Cub plane to a landing on Coleman airport Wednesday afternoon and were met by Mayor Frank Aboussafy and Board of Trade members R. R. Pattinson, Wilmer Cox, J. Allan and A. Balloch.

Purpose of the trip was to explain the set-up of a Flying Club, its costs of operation and determine whether sufficient interest prevailed in Coleman and other Pass towns to warrant a meeting of those interested for the purpose of organizing a Pass Flying Club. According to Mr. Bowman the cost of such a club was small.

Messrs. Allan, Cox and Pattinson had an informal conversation with the two flyers and it is quite possible a meeting may result at a future date in an endeavor to organize a club in the Pass.

THEATRE NOTES

ROBERT YOUNG, SYLVIA SIDNEY IN WALLIS FILM

A picture that has been heralded as one of the most important to come out of Hollywood in recent years arrives next Saturday at Cole's Theatre. It is Hal Wallis' production of Lillian Hellman's hit play, "The Searching Wind," co-starring Robert Young, Sylvia Sidney and Ann Richards, and repeat has it that the film takes its place among the movie greats.

Robert Young is cast as an American diplomat in love with Sylvia Sidney. Miss Sidney does not see eye-to-eye with him on matters that lie close to her heart, and returning his love though, she does, she refuses to marry him. On the rebound, he marries Sylvia's socialite friend, portrayed by Ann Richards, whose father (Dudley Digges) owns an influential Washington newspaper.

Miss Sidney goes to work on the newspaper and her reporting job throws her into contact with Young again and again. Each time their love flame flares, and it is the way in which they and Miss Richards eventually work out their destinies that is said to make "The Searching Wind" a picture of great interest and enjoyment.

Dick Powell proved he was a brilliant dramatic actor in "Murder, My Sweet." He proves it again, even more emphatically, in RKO Radio's newest starring vehicle for him, "Cornered," which opens Saturday at the Palace Theatre with Walter Slezak featured.

Woven around the star's new-found talents for two-fisted action, the story presents him as a Canadian flight lieutenant whose bride has been married in France. With the ending of the war he starts out grimly determined to run down the killer who ordered her death.

While there is plenty of evidence that the murderer is dead, the flier suspects that he is alive and carrying on activities elsewhere. Following an elusive woman supposed to be the man's widow, the flyer finally reaches Buenos Aires and is immediately plunged into a baffling mystery of undercover plotting with the elusive fugitive at the bottom of it all.

CURLING NOTES

Anly Dow, George Ford, Jack Rogers, Ed. Woods and Steve Krzyw have been busy during the past few weeks at the curling arena. They have painted the waiting room. The ceiling once again sparkles with a dazzling whiteness, the walls have been painted buff with a gray trimming and the floor has been painted gray.

George Ford, secretary, has been flooding during the past month in order to get a good base for the ice sheets. He succeeded in getting ice on all sheets but this week's mild spell melted the ice.

Crow's Nest Pass Bottling Works has donated a blackboard 15 ft. by 3½ ft. It has the name Coleman Curling Club printed on it and also carries some bottling advertising.

Secretary George Ford asks that all members secure their Sports Association membership cards. The card will have to be presented this season before dues are accepted.

George Ford has a look of tickets on the raffle for a new pair of curling rocks. The draw is being sponsored by Bellevue Curling Club. Any persons desiring to secure a ticket need only contact George.

PAYROLL DEDUCTIONS FOR SAVINGS BONDS TOTAL $15,000

Figures released by Ken Ringland, supervisor of pay roll deductions of Canada Savings Bonds in the Pass reveal that 41 applications were received at International for a total of $10,200 and 23 at McGillivray for a total of $4,850.

The two local mines were the only mines in the Pass which made it possible for their employees to take advantage of the pay roll deduction plan.

A Growing Nation

DURING THE WAR MUCH WAS HEARD OF Canada's growing status among the other nations of the world. The great amount of energy and ability which was put into the war effort was responsible, in part at least, for this rapid rise to a foremost place in world affairs, for it was recognized that Canada's contribution to the Allied cause in both men and resources was far in excess of what might have been expected of a nation with such a relatively small population. The same qualities which made possible this outstanding achievement still exist in Canada today and it is the responsibility of the people to see that the country continues to progress in peace, as it did during the war.

A Distinctive Canadian Type

Including the duration of Britain. Mr. Massey has recently returned from London, after serving for some years, told of the increase of Canada's prestige in Britain, and of the admiration felt there for Canada and the Canadian people. Much of this he has attributed to the contribution made by this country to the winning of the war, but Mr. Massey has also expressed the opinion that out of the war has come a distinctive Canadian type, an increasing awareness of Canadian nationalism, and a developing unity which he said could be termed "an intricate domestic pattern in a complicated country."

Faith Alone Is Not Sufficient

Mr. Massey has also told the Canadian people that he has great faith in the future of this country, but he has warned that faith alone is not sufficient to solve our difficulties "although they will not be solved without it." It is timely that we should be reminded of the need to look to the future and to continue to work for the development of the country both through faith and through action. At present we are faced with a number of difficult problems including labour unrest, housing, immigration and others. Many of the situations which have arisen were not anticipated during the war, and Canada today is not as most of her people hoped it would be in the second year of peace. We have, however, much to lose if we do not unite and solve the problems of peace as we did those of the war, and look forward at all times to developing to the utmost the great possibilities of the country in which we live.

Still A Mystery

British Research Workers Have Studied Grass Disease For 50 Years

British veterinarian are about to try again to solve the mystery of "grass disease" which has baffled research workers for almost 50 years.

The disease, which appeared in Scotland just after the South African War, is quickly fatal in most cases. Incidence is highest among young animals and those which recover are of little value.

He spoke strongly in an interview that despite his vast fortune, he was allowed by British financial regulations to bring with him only $8,000 to pay his personal expenses and that of his retinue, consisting of two personal physicians and a manservant.

Scientists Now Have Gadget To Take Temperature of Grasshopper

Scientists have added a new accomplishment to their list—they now can take the body temperature of a grasshopper.

General Electric research laboratory engineers reported they had devised a tiny "grasshopper thermometer" at the request of two Montana state college entomologists.

The professors needed the device in their study of the control and extermination of the insects which annually destroy millions of dollars worth of crops.

EFFECT DOUBLE CURE

British Physicians Transfer Glands And Beats Addison's Disease

LONDON.—A delicate gland-grafting operation apparently has cured a 33-year-old woman of dread Addison's disease and simultaneously brought health to another woman from whom a grafted gland was taken, the authoritative British Medical Journal reported.

The first patient suffered from inadequate supply of secretion from the suprarenal gland and had been kept alive by large salt dosages. Physicians found another woman, 21, suffering from an over-active suprarenal gland in less than an hour was grafted successfully to the blood vessels of the other's abdominal wall. The disease was well later, the victim of Addison's disease left the hospital and had only one brief bit of trouble during the early period of convalescence. Now, 1½ years later, she is apparently cured. The patient from whom the gland was removed also made a "good recovery."

Addison's disease is a chronic ailment, usually fatal, caused by insufficient secretion of adrenalins from the suprarenal gland. Its symptoms include anemia.

FOUNDATION GIVES GRANT FOR RHEUMATISM STUDY

Standard Is High

But Canadian Bacon For British Market Should Be Identified

There is no reason why Canada does not compete successfully with Denmark in the British bacon market, Agriculture Minister D. L. Campbell of Manitoba told the Manitoba Swine Breeders' association.

Reporting on a visit to Britain, Mr. Campbell said Canadian bacon lacked proper identification and consequently a lot of British people thought an improvement in quality was needed. However, United Kingdom bacon is "very sustained" with the high standards maintained during the war.

The minister urged steps be taken to identify Canada's bacon exports and to distinguish it from inferior brands of other countries.

WORLD WINTER FOOD SUPPLY REPORTED STILL BELOW PRE-WAR STANDARD

WASHINGTON. — The U.S. agriculture department warned Sunday that the world will have to keep its belt pulled tight during the coming winter and spring to stave off seven per cent hike in food production.

Although most countries will eat better than last year, the discontinuance of UNRRA will hit some nations hard. Others, even though they have money to buy food, will have to husband their skimpy supplies through rationing and Spartan diets.

The department said many of the good effects of the increased output will be cancelled out by the fact that world larders were seriously depleted by last winter's famine and much of the hill this year was in inaccessible regions.

"In comparing the 1946-47 food production with prewar," it added, "the increase in population of at least seven per cent, also must be taken into account. On a per capita basis food supplies for the United States are about five per cent below prewar."

Supplies of bread grains available for export probably will be smaller than last year, despite a 12 per cent increase in wheat and rye production.

Because of the small carryover, rice exports also will continue at last year's low level.

Some increase in sugar, fish and fats and oils is likely but this will be offset partially by smaller exports of meat, dairy products and eggs.

"The demand for food imports is stimulated by the low level of food stocks in both exporting and importing countries and a desire to increase stocks sufficiently to overcome the day-to-day problems of distribution," the department said.

The world food shortage also has been aggravated by the fact that in many countries, like the United States, where purchasing power has been raised by a high industrial activity, people are consuming more and better food than ever before.

Many countries will be hampered in their efforts to get food by a lack of foreign exchange. But others accumulated reserves during the war or would be able to borrow from international lending agencies.

In some cases, however, this will be done at the expense of other necessities such as steel and coal which are desperately needed to rebuild war-shattered economies.

Transportation shortages will continue to hamper the distribution of what food is available. The United States is lagging behind its export promises already because of the rail shortage and the maritime strike.

BOOSTING PRICE

Red Cedar Shingles From British Columbia To Cost More

OTTAWA. — The prices board announced increases in manufacturers' and wholesalers' ceiling prices for British Columbia red cedar shingles and said this would boost retail selling prices by approximately 20 to 25 cents a bundle.

The board said the action was taken to offset in part the effect of recent wage increases and the higher cost of fuel. The information submitted by the mills had shown the industry was operating at a loss as a result of increased costs.

Officials said the shingle mills sold almost their entire production in Canada and the United States at controlled prices and consequently their situation was different from that of other sections of the west coast lumber industry which were better able to offset wage and other increases by taking advantage of higher prices on the overseas market.

NEW RECORD AVERAGE FOR HEREFORD CATTLE

CALGARY. — Setting a new record for cattle sales in Canada 48 registered Herefords from the Pine Coule ranch, near Stavely, were sold for $35,125, an average of $737.50 per head. The buyer, Henry Vager of Oregon for Royal British, son of the $15,000 Hereford bull, Duchess Royal Domino.

QUEBEC POLITICAL LEADER DIES. — P. J. A. Cardin, 67, a leading figure in Quebec politics since the time of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, died at Sorel, P.Q., following a heart attack. His death opens the House of Commons seat of Richelieu-Vерcheres he held for 35 years. Mr. Cardin was three times a minister in the government of Prime Minister King and, after the death of Ernest Lapointe, the prime minister considered him his oldest cabinet colleague.

SUGAR BEETS

Premium Offered To Induce Quick Harvest

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. — A premium of 75 cents per ton for sugar beets was offered farmers in this area as an inducement to quickly harvest the estimated 90,000 tons of sugar beets still in the ground.

This tonnage, having an estimated value to growers of $1,200,000 and representing 25,000,000 pounds of sugar to the Dominion, was buried by up to two feet of snow in the storm at the end of last week that completely stopped harvesting.

Sugar factory operators at nearby Raymond and St. Mary's Butte, said the premium will be paid for beets dug and delivered from now until conditions for digging become normal again.

GRAIN PROBLEM

Handling Of Wet Shipments Causing Difficulties At Vancouver

VANCOUVER. — Problem of handling grain shipments from Alberta, where bad weather threshing resulted in a high proportion of tough and damp grain, will be discussed at a conference Friday.

The grain must be dried before shipment from Vancouver, otherwise it would be in danger of spoilage when moving through tropical sea areas to overseas markets, and only limited facilities are available for drying.

The problem for Vancouver grain men is just how much of the damp grain can be dried and ready for shipment here.

Unless the problem is solved there will be a sharp reduction in grain exports from here this year. Earlier it had been estimated 30,000,000 bushels could move through the port during the 1946-47 crop year.

RECLAMATION PLAN

F.F.R.A. To Start On A $100,000 Undertaking In B.C.

VICTORIA. — George Spence, director of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation administration, told the British Columbia government the federal government now was ready to make an immediate start on a $100,000 reclamation undertaking in this province on 30,000 acres of land in the Penitentiary area.

The land, described as some of the best agricultural ground in Canada, will not be bought until November. Based upon an acreage somewhat higher than previous years and assuming average yields, Argentina may achieve a crop of 200,000,000 bushels.

Asiatic crop conditions were generally favorable during the season, except in India. Turkey reported the largest crop on record.

The southern hemisphere harvest is to be saved until November. Based upon an acreage somewhat higher than previous years and assuming average yields, Argentina may achieve a crop of 200,000,000 bushels.

Latest advices from Australia indicate a relatively small crop of 130,000,000 bushels, due principally to drought in Queensland and New South Wales.

STATISTICS REPORT WORLD WHEAT PRODUCTION FOR 1946 HITS HIGH LEVEL

OTTAWA. — The Dominion bureau of statistics reported Thursday that world wheat production for 1946 will approach 5,900,000,000 bushels.

Recovery of agriculture in Europe, damage is far from complete in many countries and shortages of livestock and livestock products will mean continued reliance on cereals as the basic foodstuff in many areas.

While production during the current crop year 1946-47 have been variously estimated at from 800,000,000 to 1,100,000,000 bushels.

Europe's production, excluding that of the Soviet Union, is placed at 1,360,000,000 bushels, an advance of 16 per cent. above the 1935-39 average.

Out-turns in Spain, Italy and France also are well above the 1945 levels. Unfavorable weather during harvest seriously damaged wheat otherwise would have been an excellent crop in the United Kingdom.

In North America, Canada's production of 440,000,000 bushels is approaching 40 per cent. above that of last year, while the United States has turned out 1,169,000,000 bushels, 46,000,000 bushels in excess of the previous record crop in 1945.

The African crop, estimated at 135,000,000 bushels, is about 55 per cent. above last year's drought-stricken crop and approaches the pre-war average of 143,000,000 bushels.

Asian crop conditions were generally favorable during the season, except in India. Turkey reported the largest crop on record.

The southern hemisphere harvest is to be saved until November. Based upon an acreage somewhat higher than previous years and assuming average yields, Argentina may achieve a crop of 200,000,000 bushels.

Latest advices from Australia indicate a relatively small crop of 130,000,000 bushels, due principally to drought in Queensland and New South Wales.

Import needs by deficit countries

LONDON. — Authoritative British military sources said that British Empire and American political and military chiefs have agreed in principle to standardize land, air and naval weapons and munitions to fit United States sizes and patterns.

Informants said the issue of weapons on standardization first was broached by Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada during the conference here last April of Commonwealth prime ministers.

Mr. King, these sources said, told the conference that Canada was concerned her territories integrity and future security were inseparably linked with those of the United States and that defence strategy had to take into account the technical, productive and scientific resources of the United States.

Prime Minister Chifley of Australia and Walter Nash, New Zealand deputy prime minister, expressed similar views concerning their countries.

The military informants said A. V. Alexander, defence minister-designate, would give the standardization decision practical effect as soon as he takes office.

Asked whether such an agreement implied the conclusion of a formal military alliance between Britain and the United States, an army source said: "No, but it does mean a deliberate decision from the British side to settle any disputes that might arise in the future by discussion."

The sources said Britain and the United States were continuing to exchange information on military weapons development—more than a year after the end of the war—adding: "I don't believe there is a single military secret between ourselves and the Americans."

In practice, it was said, the arrangement will mean that in any future emergency Britain would be able to order most of her military requirements from the United States with considerable less trouble than in the last war.

The informants suggested it would take a minimum of 10 years to complete the British conversion.

PRISONERS GO HOME

Last Of Twenty-Nine Thousand To Leave In December

OTTAWA. — The last of the 29,000 German prisoners of war in Canada are scheduled to leave Canada in December—despite hundreds of requests for permission to remain in the Dominion. About 4,000, mostly merchant seamen, still are in Canada.

Lt.-Col. R. H. Davidson, director of the prisoners of war projects of the labour ministry, said that more than 1,000 employers have asked to have certain prisoners remain but government orders are that every last one is to be sent home.

Most of the 4,000—tanned, healthy and pleased with their stay in Canada—have worked on farms, in bush camps at railway maintenance and in certain industrial plants.

"They have worked faithfully and helped the country in war time and have been no trouble," said Col. Davidson. "The Canadian attitude has been made to have them stay in Canada and the pressure has not ceased, but unless present plans are altered in the very near future, they will all be sent home by Christmas."

REPORT DENIED

LONDON. — Prime Minister Attlee denied in the house of commons that Britain had agreed to recognize Egypt's claim over the strategic Suez Canal. He said that no concessions on the matter had been made and that the understanding was that they did not commit either Egypt or Britain.

WEDDINGS

GORCAK—SIMLA

A wedding of wide interest took place at the Holy Ghost church on Saturday, October 26, at 12 o'clock noon when Anne, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Simla, became the bride of Alexander Gorcak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gorcak, of Dapp, Alberta.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother Joe Simla, entered the church to the strains of the Wedding March played on the organ by Mrs. Frances Maurer. She was beautifully dressed in a floor length gown of white sheer with satin ruffled trimmings and long tight sleeves. Her long tulle veil was held in place by a pearl studded wreath and she carried a bouquet of roses. Her only ornament was gold cross, a gift of the groom.

Miss Helen Zajka was bridesmaid and chose a pink sheer gown with matching chapel veil. She carried a bouquet of carnations.

Mr. Tom Gorcak, brother of the groom, was bestman.

The groom's mother chose for the occasion a mauve crepe dress with matching accessories.

During the signing of the register the organist played hymns.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Matti Kropinak, where only intimate relatives and friends were present. A three tiered wedding cake centre the bride's table.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gorcak, Mrs. Clifford O'Brien, of Dapp, Alberta;

Mr. and Mrs. W. Glowatz, of Creston and Joe Simla, of Coutts.

The happy young couple have taken up residence in Coleman where the groom is employed.

St. Paul's United Church Pension Fund

The local committee and canvassers of St. Paul's United church have launched their drive in aid of the Ministers' Pension Fund. The quota for Coleman and district is $750, a not unconsiderable amount but it is felt that this objective can and will be met.

The fund is necessary in order to provide retirement allowances for the ministers of the church, and as such is a very commendable purpose. Without slogan with a deep belief that "a lifetime of service merits a lifetime of support," laymen everywhere are rallying to the support of their ministers by launching this nation-wide appeal. This is a responsibility they owe those who sacrifice material gain and worldly prosperity in dedicated service to their fellowmen and women.

Members and adherents of the United church are reminded that this one appeal is the only one they will ever be called upon to respond to in the matter of this fund. When the total objective is reached the fund will be on a basis which will need no augmenting in the future.

The cause is indeed worthy, and all those interested are earnestly requested to give generously. All MUST give generously if the objective is to be reached.

Disasters come to everyone. Some folks are luckier than others and the blows fall with less weight, but, somehow, sometime, troubles arrive. It isn't a very cheerful thought, but it must be admitted it's truthful. Disasters, with their certain losses, can be anticipated and lightened by insurance. We have for your inspection many different forms which adequately cover your requirements.
